Hello Neighbors,

The purpose of this monthly letter is to help keep the residents apprised of some of the on-going business and management aspects of Deerlake Village as well as some of the topics that your Board is working on for the benefit of the community.

Our Treasurer, Brenda Bryan, has prepared the following financial report confirmed by Gould Killian CPA Group, P.A. As of 3/31/24, DVCA has $300,642.04 in various interest-bearing accounts. The March 2024 operating expenses were $5,308.34. The total expenses year-to-date were $56,572.99. This amounts to 45.09% of our annual operating budget to date. The reserve account had $500.00 expensed for the cost of the gazebo cupola, repairs, painting and installation by QVR, the roofing contractor. All the assessments have been collected. One owner’s late fee is still outstanding.

Recently your Board has been working on the following DVCA topics:

- approving changes to the Capital Reserve Policy
- approving new Landscape Review Committee (LRC) member Charlene Nimer
- resolving two issues of resident non-compliance with DVCA rules and regulations
- managing the budget and expenditures relating to contracts for maintenance and protection of our valuable Deerlake Village property and assets
- approving the 2024 pool rules
- reviewing Maintenance Committee projects
- implementing some future security improvements to the DVCA website

As I meet and talk with residents, I am regularly amazed by the backgrounds and depths of experience of our neighbors. Many have moved here to the beautiful mountains after rewarding careers and world-wide experiences. Our Village gets the benefit of this vast experience when neighbors volunteer to serve on committees or to help the community. My heartfelt thanks to those who are stepping forward to make Deerlake Village a great place to live.

Registration is open for the Deerlake neighbors canoe / kayak trip with Headwaters Outfitters scheduled for Saturday, June 8th, 2024. This is a private, guided trip, not open to the public. The section of the French Broad we will be paddling is a very calm stretch of river, suitable for beginners, and should be a lot of fun. The trip starts and ends at Oskar Blues. Here is the itinerary:

- 3:00 PM – Meet at Oskar Blues
A bus from Headwaters Outfitters will take us to the Pisgah Forest Access of the French Broad River. There your chosen canoe or kayak will be waiting. When you register for the trip, you will be able to specify your choice of a boat. People have their choice of Old Town Discovery Canoes (sit on top) similar to this:

or Perception Tribe single Kayak (sit on top) similar to this:

or Perception Tribe tandem Kayak similar to this:

- 3:30 PM to 5:30 PM – Paddle the river
After a brief orientation, the guide will lead us down the river. This is an easy 5-mile paddle trip from Pisgah Forest Access to the Penrose Access. Depending on water level, the trip will take about 2 hours.
- 5:30 PM (Approximately) – Bus ride
A bus picks us up at Penrose and brings us back to Oskar Blues. Everyone can enjoy some frosty cold beverages and conversation!

To sign up, call Headwaters Outfitters at 828-877-3106. Tell them you are signing up for the June 8th Deer Lake Village Residents Cruise then Brews trip. If you want to include kids / grandkids, they are welcome, but the cost is the same for all. Headwaters will take payment over the phone. The cost is $50 per person which includes the guide fee, transportation, canoe, paddle, and life jacket (mandatory).

A tip for the guide is optional and can be paid at the end of the trip. Please sign up before June 1 so we can get an idea of how many neighbors to expect. If you have any questions, feel free to reach out to me at osgoodcox@gmail.com. Also, I would appreciate an email letting me know you are coming.

Community Relations, Brent Dormann

There have been no concerns expressed for this month.

Hearings, John Brown

Nothing from the Hearings Committee for the May issue

Pool, Penny Grecni

The pool season will begin in about one month! Although you may see the pool cover come off and activity around it with cleaning and furniture being brought out, the pool is closed until we pass inspection. Once we pass inspection, we will send an announcement that the pool is officially open. This will probably occur sometime near Memorial Day Holiday Weekend.

If you do not have a pool key or two wristbands for your household, please contact Margo Williamson after May 1.

The 2024 Pool Rules and the Hours and Guest Policy are published on pages 6 and 7. They are approved by the Board. Please be familiar with these, especially as you invite a guest to use the pool. You are responsible to know these rules and ensure your guests know them as well.

One change for this season onward is the increase to 8 individual local visitors each month. FOR EXAMPLE, think of each household having 8 pool tickets to use for local friends or family members each month and each local person who comes to the pool uses up a ticket each time. When a household uses its 8 tickets, that household must wait until the next month to invite any local person(s) to use the pool. Please appreciate that residents' local family and friends have other pool options in town and must not use our pool as a substitute for the local public pool.

We hope this change will be helpful to our residents. If you have any questions with these rules or policies, please feel free to contact me or a member of the committee.

Recycling and More, by Bob Agnew.

Recycling and More: A Presentation and Q and A Session by Kenn Webb, Transylvania County Solid Waste Director on Thursday, May 2nd, 2024 from 4:00 PM to 5:00 PM at the Deerlake Clubhouse

Have you ever wondered: What happens to the stuff I recycle? What impact does our recycling have? Can I recycle Styrofoam and _____ (fill in the blank)? How clean do recycled materials need to be? Is today the day I put out my recycling? What happens to all the trash that is collected? What improvements are planned for recycling and the landfill? Can I take a tour of the landfill?

Kenn Webb will answer these and any other questions you might have. And if you're not sure if something can be recycled, please feel free to bring it with you and Kenn will give you the answer.

Sponsored by the Deerlake Environmental Awareness Group

Community Activity: Pool-Keys & Wristbands, Margo Williamson

Editorial Submissions*Pollinators R Us!, by Rich Schram*

Why are pollinators important? Pollinators are needed for humanity's continued existence. (1) The USDA says "three-fourths of the world's flowering plants and about 35 percent of the world's food crops depend on animal pollinators to reproduce." (2) Pollinators face fewer breeding places, threats from imported species, diseases, pesticides, herbicides, and climate change. (3) The human population is blowing up. In 1800, the world population was about 1 Billion. Today's population is about 8.1 billion, and by 2100, an estimated 11.2 billion. (4) Without pollinators, future generation we will all die, so get to work in your gardens as soon as possible."

Nature's big-time pollinators are bees, beetles, butterflies, moths, flies, birds, bats, and the wind. But it is not one-size-fits-all.

1. Various pollinator species are sometimes attracted to flowers of different shapes and colors.
2. Some plants lack nectar guides, i.e., markings or patterns on the flowers that help pollinators.
3. Plant odor, a pollinator attractant, can vary and is often hindered by manmade pollution.
4. Nectar is the sweet liquid the plants secrete to attract pollinators. But its amount and accessibility can vary among plants, causing pollinator selectivity.
5. Pollen grains (other as the powdery stuff blanketing your car, making you sneeze and throw your body around like a whirling dervish) contain a plant's male reproductive cells. Pollens' availability can vary among plant species, as well as its makeup, for example, from smooth to sticky. Pollen can also be a high protein food for some insects.

Maybe this chart will say it better.

Pollinator Syndrome Chart (The Characteristics of a Flower that Appeal to Certain Pollinators)
Birds	Are active during Days / Diurnal Prefer Scarlet, Orange, Red, White, & Pink colors and have no odor preference. Flower shape: Tube shaped; (funnelforms, salverforms, tubular). Flowers with spurs. Some birds by eat the whole flower; need strong perch support. Nectar: Ample and deeply hidden.
Bees / Wasps	Are active during Days / Diurnal Prefer White or pale, UV, Purple, Blue and Yellow colors and have a fresh, mild, or pleasant odor preference. Flower Shape: Bowl-shaped or open (coroniform, cruciform, ligulate, or stallate), labiated, papilionoid. (Large lone tonged bees share bird shap preferences. Nectar: Usually present.
Beetles	Are active during Days / Diurnal Prefer White, Pale, & Green colors and have any odor preference except strong fruity or offensive odors. Flower shape: Cup-shaped (campanulate, cupuliform, saccate, or urceolate), bowl-shaped or open (coroniform, cruciform, ligulate, or stallate). Nectar: Sometimes present and not hidden.
Butterflies	Are active during Days / Diurnal Prefer Red, Orange, Yellow, Purple, Pink, & UV colors and have a faint or fresh odor preference. Flower shape: Bowl-shaped or open (coroniform, cruciform, ligulate, or stallate), Tube-shaped; (funnelforms, salverforms, tubular), reflexed, or spurred. Nectar: Ample and deeply hidden.
Bats	Are active during Nights / Nocturnal Prefer Dull White, Green, or Purple colors and have a strong, musty scent emitted at night preference. Flower shape: Bowl-shaped, open at night. Nectar: Abundant and hidden.
Moths	Are active during Nights / Nocturnal Prefer Pale or White, Pink, Dull Red, and Purple colors and have a strong, sweet, emitted at night odor preference. Flower shape: Tube shaped; (funnelforms, salverforms, tubular). Nectar: Ample and deeply hidden.
Flies	Are active during Days / Diurnal Prefer White or Pale, Brown, Purple, Red or flecked with translucent patches colors and have a putrid odor preference. Flower shape: Bowl-shaped or open (coroniform, cruciform, ligulate, or stallate), funnel-like, or complex and trap like. Nectar: Usually absent.

Ways We Can Support Pollinators

- Choose heavy pollen and nectar-producing plants. (And perhaps buy some antihistamine)
- Plant a variety of flowers for season-long blooming and blossom shape. (Did you remember Kleenex?)
- Plant in clumps to attract pollinators.
- Pollinators prefer native plants that have higher pollen and nectar resources compared to cultivated plants.

- Accept plant damage from leafcutter bees, caterpillars and other pollinating insects. (Think insect-tolerant thoughts.)

How To Create Nesting and Egg-Laying Habitat

- Plant layers of shrubs, tall grasses, and low-growing plants, uncut through winter; 30% of native bees nest above ground in hollow grasses.
- Allow small bare ground areas, loose sandy soil, sloped embankments for ground-nesting native bees.
- Use pesticides as a last resort, and select pesticides known to be less harmful to pollinators.

I may have to rethink my relationship with carpenter bees and yellowjackets. 😊

Update on Deerlake Neighbors Facebook Page

The Deerlake Neighbors Facebook page has been up and running for several months and 71 neighbors have signed up. All seem to be enjoying this informal and informative communication tool. Among other things, it is a great place to post questions. Examples –

- ✓ Are you looking for a reliable handyman?
- ✓ How about someone to help in the yard?
- ✓ You have items to give away.
- ✓ You need a good recipe.

Your neighbors are happy to share their experiences. If you would like to join the group, here's how:

- Facebook Account. If you do not already have a personal FB page, you need to create one to join a FB group. To do this go to www.facebook.com and click on “Create New Account.” This is very easy and free. The site will walk you through the steps.
- Join the Group. Once you have your FB page, you have two options to join the Deerlake group:
 1. Email. Email me at osgoodcox@gmail.com using the same email you used on your FB page and include your Deerlake address. I will send you an invitation that will allow you to join.
 2. Request on Facebook. You can go to your personal FB page and search for Deerlake Village Neighbors. The site will come up but will not allow you to enter. It will ask if you want to join. If you answer yes, FB will send me an email asking to approve you. Please be sure to include your Deerlake address. Once I sign off, you are in!
